

Cover Letter Rubric

	Cover letter should get you an interview. GOOD JOB!	Cover letter could land you an interview. This is an average letter (borderline case).	Cover letter needs significant improvement and would be discarded during screening.
Business format and overall quality of writing	This letter uses correct business format with date and addresses at the top and a signature at the bottom. This letter is clear and concise, and grammatically correct. There are no spelling errors.	This letter uses correct business format with date and addresses at the top and a signature at the bottom. There are minimal grammar and spelling errors. This letter is decent in content but does not convince an employer to call.	Business formatting is not used in this letter. There is no address or date at the top. This letter is not signed. There are multiple grammar and spelling errors. The content of this letter does not make sense to the reader.
Section 1: Introduction	This section identifies the position you are applying for. You have described how you heard about the opening. This section identifies why you are interested in this job. Wording is creative and catches an employer's attention quickly.	This section identifies the position you are seeking. This letter does not describe how you heard about the opening. You vaguely describe why you are interested in this job. This section is bland and might not catch someone's attention fast enough.	This section does not clearly identify what position you are seeking. There is no description of how you heard about the position or why you are interested. This letter definitely will not grab an employer's attention and keep them reading.
Section 2: Identification of skills and experiences as related to position	This letter identifies one or two of your strongest qualifications and clearly relates how these skills apply to the job at hand. This letter explains specifically why you are interested in this position and this type of job, company and/or location.	This letter identifies one of your qualifications but it is not related to the position at hand. This letter restates what is on your resume with minimal additional information. You explain why you are interested in this position but you are still too vague.	This letter does not discuss any relevant qualifications. You have not related your skills to the job you are applying for. This letter does not state why you are interested in this position, company and/or position.
Section 3: Closing	This letter refers the reader to your resume or any other enclosed documents. This letter thanks the reader for taking time to read this letter. You are assertive as you describe how you will follow up with the employer in a stated time period.	You thank the reader for taking time to read this letter. You do not refer the reader to your resume or application materials. This letter assumes that the employer will contact you to follow up.	This letter does not thank the reader for taking time to review this letter. There is no reference to a resume or other materials. This letter does not mention any plan for follow up.

Winter, Mick. How to Talk New Age. 28 July 2003. <<http://well.com/user/mick/newagept.html>>