

Student Life

The friendly Wartburg spirit, easy to catch and impossible to forget, characterizes campus life. As a residential college, Wartburg offers a wide range of programs, activities, and services. Students participate in more than 80 campus clubs and organizations, 19 men's and women's intercollegiate athletic programs, and a number of music groups.

The college's emphasis on leadership and service is reflected in campus life, where students provide leadership for campus organizations and student government and get involved in a variety of service projects. Ethics and values shape the life of the community, and the living/learning environment supports a tradition of academic excellence.

Residential Life

Residential life is an important part of the total educational program at Wartburg College. More than 80 percent of the student body lives on campus. Unless students reside at home, are married, have dependent children, or are over the age of 24, all students are required to live on campus.

Living on campus enhances classroom learning by providing an opportunity for students to learn more about themselves and others. Residential options include Hebron Hall (men); Vollmer and Centennial Halls (women); Clinton Hall (coed by wing); The Residence, Grossmann Hall, and Löhe Hall (special-interest housing, coed by suite); Founders Hall (coed by floor); Afton and Waverly Manors (upper-division students, coed by floor); and Knights Village (townhouse apartments for seniors). First-year students live in the Complex (Hebron, Centennial, and Vollmer Halls) or on one of the first-year floors in Clinton Hall.

Depending on building assignment and class year, students may choose from three- or four-person rooms, double-occupancy rooms, suite-style arrangements, townhouse living, and a limited number of single rooms. Professional and peer advisers assist students in achieving a living environment that complements the classroom experience, encourages positive, healthy relationships, and promotes personal growth.

Residence halls close during major college vacation periods. Students whose homes are 500 or more miles from campus may remain on campus with permission and/or by paying a small fee, but they may be required to move to another building during the break.

Dining

Dining Services is owned and operated by Wartburg College. Students who live on campus have a board plan that gives them access to the Mensa, an all-you-care-to-eat dining facility, as well as options elsewhere on campus. Board plan options vary based on academic status and housing location. Other locations to eat on campus include the Den, a quick-service restaurant with convenience store items, and the Konditorei and the Zesty Orange, which both offer coffee, snacks, and light meals. Food can be ordered from the three restaurants using online ordering, so the food is ready when the guest arrives.

More than 300 students are employed by dining services (35 of them are supervisors of other students, and there is a long-term business management internship program). Students serving students, combined with everyone dining together, helps to create a friendly, close-knit community.

Student Health

Wartburg College and the Waverly Health Center work together to provide health care to students in the Noah Campus Health Clinic in the Wartburg-Waverly Sports & Wellness Center.

The Noah Campus Health Clinic is a comprehensive outpatient clinic. It offers a wide variety of illness, injury, and wellness services. Three exam rooms along with laboratory and office space provide a comfortable, professional environment for patient care. A certified physician assistant directs and coordinates health consultation and education, treatment, and referrals when necessary to appropriate services.

The clinic is open five days per week when the college is in session. For after hours emergency assistance, contact Campus Security or Residence Hall Directors.

Health services are available to all students who pay the student services fee and submit a completed Wartburg health record, which includes verification of immunity to communicable diseases. New students must submit this record prior to moving into the residence halls. All students must show proof of health insurance or they may purchase a basic policy through the College. The waiver form, insurance, and immunization forms are available online at the Wartburg Noah Campus Clinic Web site.

Counseling Services

The Wartburg campus community affords a wide variety of resources to help students adjust to college life. Counseling Services, located in the Pathways Center, provides psychological support as students pursue their academic and personal goals. Professionally trained counselors offer a supportive environment, where students can talk openly and confidentially about personal issues. This office also facilitates the college's substance abuse education program and organizes support groups and psychoeducational workshops as needed. When warranted, Counseling Services provides referrals for off-campus counseling. The office also advises A.W.A.R.E. (Alcohol Wisdom and Real Education) and S.M.A.R.T. (Sexual Misconduct and Resource Team).

Alcohol and Other Illegal Drug Policies

The Drug-Free School and Communities Act Amendments of 1989, Public Law 101-226, requires that the college notify students and employees about campus policies, legal sanctions, and programs. Wartburg College students are expected to be positive, contributing members of the campus community. The possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs contradicts that commitment to community. Illegal drugs and drug paraphernalia are not permitted on the Wartburg campus. The college will cooperate with law enforcement agencies to enforce those laws. Violations of this college policy are considered serious, and sanctions can include dismissal from the college. Students who have attained the legal drinking age of 21 may possess or consume alcoholic beverages in their private living quarters, if their quarters are in buildings where alcohol is allowed. Alcohol may not be provided to students or guests under the age of 21.

Motor Vehicles

Students may have motor vehicles, but the vehicles must be registered with the Security Office and parked in assigned college lots.

For further information about standards of conduct, legal sanctions, educational programs, or counseling and treatment opportunities, contact the Student Life Office or consult the Wartburg College Student Handbook.

Responsibilities of Students

Students are expected to assume responsibility for their conduct and for making full use of educational opportunities. They are expected to observe established standards for scholarship, conduct, and campus life. Some standards exist because the college is part of a larger community governed by federal and state legislation. Other standards are unique to Wartburg and support an environment conducive to the learning and nurturing of Christian values. It is especially important that students observe academic honesty and integrity as described in the Wartburg College Honor Code.

The Wartburg College Honor Code

As a matter of personal commitment, students, faculty, and staff of Wartburg College are expected to demonstrate four simple principles:

1. Submit only work that is your own.
2. When using the ideas of others, give full credit through accurate citations.
3. Ask for clarification if you are uncertain about the rules of citation on a particular assignment.
4. Maintain academic honesty on examinations and class assignments.

All are responsible for abiding by these guidelines and opposing academic dishonesty by reporting any act that goes against these guidelines.

When evidence of dishonesty is discovered, appropriate disciplinary action will be taken. The Wartburg College Student Handbook outlines standards of conduct and regulations governing student life. Copies are available from the Student Life Office.

Religious Life

As a college of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, Wartburg views the religious dimension of life as crucial and believes that an education is not complete unless it deals with deeper issues of faith and life. Religious life at Wartburg celebrates both the unique heritage of the Lutheran tradition and the variety of peoples and faiths that come together on the campus. Wartburg welcomes students of all faiths and offers many avenues for worship, study, fellowship, service, and outreach.

The Wartburg Chapel serves as the center for campus worship and houses the offices of the campus pastors and Campus Ministry organizations. Morning chapel services, led by faculty, staff, students, and the college pastors, meet three times a week. A midweek Eucharistic service is celebrated on Wednesday evenings. Sunday morning services offer both contemporary and traditional worship formats.

Waverly churches, including Lutheran, Catholic, Methodist, Episcopal, United Church of Christ, Baptist, Open Bible, Vineyard, and Church of the Nazarene, also welcome Wartburg students.

Students plan an annual Spiritual Emphasis Week that highlights spiritual life on campus through worship services, special activities, and musical events. Campus Ministry organizations include Adopt-a-Grandparent, an outreach to the elderly; Catholic Knights; Faith Alive, an outreach ministry to churches; a worship and arts group; Fellowship of Christian Athletes; Amnesty International; Habitat for Humanity; and Spiritsong, a ministry of song and devotion.

The college pastors provide leadership in worship, counseling, and the teaching ministries, drawing upon the rich resources of the Wartburg/Waverly community.

Activities

Student groups, with the assistance of professional staff, offer a wide variety of social activities. Comedy and variety entertainers, coffeehouses, dances, social activities, and special events that include Homecoming and Outfly are scheduled throughout the year.

Cultural Events, Convocations

The Wartburg College Artist Series brings outstanding programs of music, drama, and dance to the campus community. Admission to Artist Series programs is free for students.

The Convocation Series offers speakers on a variety of academic, artistic, political, and social issues. Programs are generally scheduled on Tuesday mornings during a community time that is built into the academic schedule. Convocations are free and open to the public.

Wartburg regularly schedules extended visits by distinguished speakers or scholars-in-residence, who conduct classes and seminars, lead discussions, present lectures, and interact with students.

Further enhancing the campus cultural life are recitals and concerts by students, faculty, college music groups, and guest performers.

The Wartburg Players present drama productions. The Waldemar A. Schmidt Art Gallery in the Fine Arts Center offers a series of touring art exhibits throughout the year and also displays the work of students and faculty. Student organizations, including the International Club, Black Student Union, and the Cultural Awareness Organization, sponsor a variety of cultural events throughout the academic year.

Student Life Services

Student Diversity Programs and Services

Wartburg is committed to enrolling and graduating American-ethnic students. The Student Diversity Programs and Services Office develops and promotes multicultural programming and activities that lead to an understanding and appreciation of differences.

The director provides academic, social, and personal advisory support to American-ethnic students. The director also serves as adviser to the Cultural Awareness Organization and the Black Student Union. The organizations promote cultural diversity on campus by sponsoring social events, educational forums, and community service projects.

The nearby Waterloo metropolitan area has the largest American-ethnic population of any city in Iowa, offering opportunities for interaction between Wartburg students and Waterloo groups. American-ethnic students also receive support from alumni. A Diversity National Advisory Board meets on campus to maintain rapport with students and respond to their needs. The committee works to improve recruitment and retention of minority faculty and administrative staff, who serve as role models for students.

International Student Programs

Wartburg College welcomes international students. Students from more than 35 countries provide a valued international dimension to the campus community. The International Programs Office, located in the Saemann Student Center, offers support through orientation, personal and academic counseling, preparation of government reporting documents, and connections with local International Friendship Hosts. The Director of International Programs also serves as sponsor for the International Club and International Fellows delegates who represent Wartburg College in intercollegiate events.
